

INTEGRATED MANAGEMENT SYSTEM POLICY

ETF, which manufactures internationally leading clothing brands by using its strong infrastructure, technology and competent manpower, has adopted the principle of applying lean production conditions and fulfilling its OHS and environmental responsibilities at every stage of production. On this basis, ETF has identified all processes, which related to its production quality standards at all stages of the process from raw material purchase to the end user, and established the necessary infrastructure to prevent and / or eliminate environmental pollution and work accidents.

In this context, ETF has established ISO 9001: 2015 Quality Management System, ISO 14001: 2015 Environmental Management System and ISO 45001: 2018 Occupational Health and Safety Management System, withal the company is committed to taking all necessary actions for the substances listed below which ensures the continuity of the health, safety and welfare of its employees and other persons who may be affected by the business activities.

- Increasing customer satisfaction and competitive advantage by improving our product and service quality in textile and apparel sector.
- Meeting the expectation and need of textile industry by adding new products to our product range through research and development activities.
- Preventing environmental pollution, protecting natural resources, reducing waste at the source and waste disposal in a controlled way.
- Providing training opportunities to improve the Integrated Management System.
- Complying with all legal regulations related to environmental issues that we are liable, customer requirements and other conditions.
- Providing training to raise the awareness of our employees and subcontractor manufacturers and encouraging them to apply these principles.
- Setting targets and planning to achieve these objectives by considering the relevant parties and environmental issues.
- Continuously improving our Quality and Environmental Management systems in line with needs arising, within the scope of responsibility to our customers and the local community